University of Michigan Doubles Use of Kurzweil

Job Skill Technology, Inc. (JST, Inc.) is proud to announce that the University of Michigan Athletic Department has doubled its use of Kurzweil 3000 to make the product more accessible to student-athletes. The multi-sensory software provides audio and visual access to curriculum via the computer. Students utilize the reading, writing and study skills tools that are proven to help all students succeed in the classroom. The U-M selected a partnership with JST, Inc. because of their product knowledge and reputation for the highest levels of customer support.
